TITANIC DISASTER RECALLED

Four Unfortunate Fishers Arrive in the City on the Guess Limited.

It is in a way quite remarkable how history repeats itself. Its not so long ago as to be forgotten that the world was thrilled at the sinking of the great steamer Titanic and the loss of so many valuable lives. Even at this date the remembrance of the ultra bravery of the passengers and crew, as all hope of safety was gone, joining in singing that wonderful hymn of hope and promise makes one proud of his manhood. An accident on or in the water is always, to say the least interesting. The other day down at the Keystone mine where water is as plenty as the flowers that bloom in the spring a fishing party was organized, red worms and fish hooks were found, a ball of twine and several sections of fence rails for fishing rods were made ready and out on an old log lying across the creek sallied the four. Throwing their fishing tackle into the depths they patiently waited for results, they got them. No wireless p d q was available, no band of music was at hand, no voices were raised in any triumphant hymn, the old log just quietly broke in two and landed the party in the deep. Of course we don't know just what expressions were used but we assume that for the moment that evening prayer, "Now I lay me down to sleep," was for the moment forgotten. The four brave hearts were floundering in the creek, but not a murmur escaped. It was all right. When asked what they caught, as with one voice they replied, a million chiggers and several colds. Somewhat tired and very damp Mrs. Geo. Roberts, Miss Evelyn Roberts, Mrs. Daily and Miss Daily reached Marion later in the day by the Guess limited and are receiving the plaudits and compliments of their numerous friends for the wonderful bravery exhibited when all hope of reuniting that old log was gone.

FARMERS BANK LETS CONTRACT

For Magnificent New Home to F. B. Heath, the Contractor.

Mr. O. S. Denny, cashier of the Farmers' Bank, advises us that a contract for the construction of its new bank building at Main and Carlisle streets has been awarded to the well known contractor, F. B. Heath. Mr. Heath will begin work immediately with special instruction to push the work as rapidly as possible. The building will be a modern one story building, and utilized exclusively by the bank. The superstructure will be of chocolate colored vitrified brick and bedford stone. The interior work is to be of mahogany and Italian marble, steel ceiling and Venetian tile flooring. A special feature of this new bank, will be its fire and burglar proof vault, the walls of which will be eighteen inches thick, lined throughout with one-half inch steel. An electric light will be suspended directly above the door, so that the vault will be in plain view every hour of the night. A time lock which is set and operated on the inside of the vault door, will keep the combination in place between four in the evening and eight in the morning—and on Saturday, the mechanism will be set so that the doors are absolutely closed at four Saturday evening until eight Monday morning. Another of the special features will be a public reception room, provided with chairs, tables and an abundant supply of stationery, including legal forms, letter heads, envelopes, pens, ink, etc., for the free use of the bank patrons and the public generally. The bank extends a special invitation to ladies and gentlemen to utilize this room for business and social purposes. It is the intention of the officials to have the building completed and occupied by July 1st.

Dalvine will place a subject in a trance in a store window for eight hours, if one can be secured during his engagement here.

EUGENE WILSON

Wins the Cochran Medal in the Oratorical Contest.

The Annual Oratorical Contest of the Marion High School which was held at the Auditorium last Friday night, was attended by the usual audience and that they were entertained goes without saying. The four candidates for the medal were encouraged by the presence of many of their friends and loved ones and each of them received many congratulations, cards and flowers.

The first oration was by Geo. A. Heath, on "The Beauties of Science" and was handled in a way which evidenced much thought and study, was a credit to the young man who delivered it and no doubt, was a source of pride to his many friends who flocked to him and congratulated him after the speeches were over.

The second number on the program, was Owen Moore's oration on "Of such was the Kingdom of heaven". The subject was good and the time opportune (as the child labor question is being agitated in the land) and the young speaker inter-twined that question into his speech in a way that was touching and to say that he maintained the family record as an orator is not putting it a bit strong. He had many warm friends in the audience who cheered and praised him and he deserved all of it.

Eugene Wilson was the third on the program and they do say, third is the charm in some things, and it certainly proved true in this case. His subject was "The Land of Promise" and ere he had spoken many sentences it was clearly seen that he had the closest attention of his hearers, who were in sympathy with his efforts. His address was a masterly one and assured him the medal when the judges decided on the award. His friends and co-eds rushed to his side and almost swept him from the stage in their enthusiasm.

The last but not the least by any means was, "The Heritage of tomorrow" by Earl Sullenger. To say that he did well and that

MINING NEWS

Of the Local District and Other Points in Kentucky.

James M. Persons reports the finding of two carbonate of zinc veins, each three feet in width, in the drift of Master's property near Mexico. All indications seem to point the fact that zinc will eventually over balance the fluor spar interests in this entire district.

It is stated from Carrsville that the second shaft located on the Earle land is showing a strong vein of fluor spar supposed to be the continuation of the Blue diggings ledge of the Fairview, (Ill.) company which crosses the river at that point and belongs to the Carrsville Mining Co.

The unwatering of the Keystone mine by compressed air has proven most successful. What ordinarily required a week to accomplish with regular pumps now can be done in 12 hours by air with same results. G. P. Roberts, president of the Roberts Fluor Spar & Lead Co., made the first installation of the method in this district and is much pleased with the results, obtained.

Prof. J. E. Wright, the well known mineralogist and geologist, has developed two veins of fluor spar in his Levis property which is under the general direction of Maj. J. Seth Henry.

The magnitude of the diamond drilling at the Memphis property under the direction of Dr. A. H. Reed, can hardly be over estimated. As to the results obtained, it is quite impossible to state. The only means the Press has for judging results is the very broad smile pervading the Dr's face when the subject of deep mining in this district is broached.

It is reported that the Granby, (Mo.) Mining & Smelting Co., will do some extensive diamond drilling on an old but well known zinc producing property near Marion on an option of purchase if ground proves valuable.

W. B. YANDELL RESIGNS

As Member of the Board of Trustees of the City Schools.

W. B. Yandell last week resigned as school trustee or rather the term for which he was elected having expired he refused to stand for re-election or to serve longer. Mr. Yandell was president of the board for ten years and has been a member of it since its organization or about nineteen years. He has taken a great interest in the school and has devoted his time and his counsel free of all charge.

Few men without children would take as much interest as he has done. Mr. Yandell succeeded R. C. Walker as president in 1903 and has been the guardian of the treasury ever since, preventing excessive drafts on the money and seeing as best he could that each dollar spent was well invested and not wasted. The school district and the board will miss his kindly advice and will no doubt call him into the council chambers many times for consultation as to the best interest of the Marion Graded and High school affairs.

Rosiclar Branch Line.

The Gulf Lines people have just filed in Golconda and Elizabethtown the location map for a branch line from a point on the main line five miles north of Golconda to Rosiclar and Fairview.

They are taking right off way on the assurance that work will start within ninety days and that trains will be running within eighteen months.

Bushman, the contractor, is here making final figures on the work.—Golconda Herald-Enterprise.

Dalvine to Appear Here.

"He's coming," thousands upon thousands of people in entirely different parts of the world, have made that remark on seeing the bills exhibited, in the highest art of mysticism.

FOUR DROWNED IN KENTUCKY RIVER

Steamer Strikes a Snag, Careens, Fills and Sinks With 30 Passengers.

Worthville, Ky., May 6.—The steamer Sonoma, plying between Louisville and Frankfort was lost this afternoon at 4:30 at Glen Mary, where she struck a snag as she was about to land. The boat careened, filled and sank, throwing some thirty passengers into the water.

Four were drowned: Mrs. Frank Kiewell, of Ohio and the sister of Captain E. C. Webster; Mrs. Kidwell's baby, Fred Sadler, who boarded the boat at Worthville, and a deck hand named McKinney. A government dredge boat went to the rescue.

Announces For Legislature.

Rev. B. F. Hyde, of Grand Rivers, was in the city Monday enroute from his regular appointment at Repton, where he preached Sunday. While here he authorized the announcement of his candidacy for Representative from this and Livingston counties which appears elsewhere in these columns.

Rev. Hyde moved from Cadiz, Ky., to Grand Rivers last year, and preaches at Corinth church in Livingston Co., also Caldwell Springs church in this county as well as Repton.

He is well and favorably known to many of our people, and already his entry into the race for legislature is exciting great interest among his friends.

Horses Killed by Buffalo Gnats.

Providence, Ky., May 2.—Tradewater river bottoms are swarming with buffalo gnats in wake of the overflow and the farmers are meeting with great difficulty in doing their spring plowing because of the assault of the pests on the stock. One farmer near Shady Grove, lost four head of horses as the result of onslaught of the gnats.

144,000 FREE MEALS FOR THE VETERANS

Immense Preparations Being Made at Chattanooga to Entertain Confederate Veterans Next Month.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 7.—In commemoration of the bloody battle at Chickamauga 50 years ago, Chattanooga announces perfection of the plans for entertainment of the United Confederate Veterans and the Sons who will hold their 23rd annual Reunion May 27-29. High officials of the G. A. R. state that Chattanooga's expenditures for entertainment and amusement, etc., will be on a more lavish scale than was ever necessary for their meetings, even surpassing the high water mark at Los Angeles.

It is expected in Chattanooga that upward of 12,000 veterans will be present, all of whom will be tendered free lodging and meals at Camp Alexander P. Stewart. Some fellow with a love for statistics has figured that this means the service of 144,000 free meals in the course of four days. The requisite number of Government tents and cots have been loaned by the War Department. The year 1913 will perhaps mark the last pilgrimage of most of the veterans of 1863 to ground made sacred by the heroes of the Blue and Gray on the heights and in the shadow of Lookout Mountain.

Came Near Being a Fire.

Fire which caught from sparks that emanated from a flue, did about $10 damage to the roof of the house of H. D. McChesney, 233 North Seventh street, Tuesday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock. Truck companies Nos. 1, 3, and 4 answered the alarm.—Paducah News Democrat.

Dalvine's entertainment is a rare treat and he crowds more genuine novelty, positive amusement and appreciative enjoyment into twenty-five minutes than you ever saw before.

Barbecued Meats.

Our friends of Marion, Ky., and Crittenden Co., are invited to patronize us on May 10th. We will give a barbecue for our rally that will be on Sunday, May 11, 1913. You can send and get your dinner, or it will be sent to you.

The Evangelist, Rev. Mrs. L. Allen, of Nashville, Tenn., will preach for us on Sunday, May 11th. In connection with the Special Term of Livingston Circuit Court.

On account of the court house being utilized as a storage warehouse for household goods that were moved out of the flood's way and also the high water making it almost impossible for jurors, witnesses and litigants to reach town last week no session of circuit court which was to have begun April 8, has been held.

A special term of court will be called during the summer. Commonwealth's attorney Grayot came in Monday and has been looking after the preparation of some of the important criminal cases that are to be tried.

Judge Gordon came to Smith land Monday evening and after a conference with the members of the bar a special term of court was called to meet July 14. This is the earliest date that could be fixed in which time enough could be allowed for the grand jury to investigate the many important criminal cases that will come before the body for consideration. Though no petit jury will be empanelled preliminary orders and motions will be made and heard in civil cases and jail prisoners who may be indicted and desire to enter pleas of guilty will be finally disposed of.—Livingston Banner.

Trustee Elected.

Last Saturday being the regular election day fixed by the law to choose trustees for the Marion graded school, an election was called to fill the vacancy caused by the refusal of W. B. Yandell longer to serve. The candidates were J. C. Bourland and W. D. Cannan, the latter being elected.
